Program for the week beginning Monday, June 9.

MONDAY and TUESDAY

CHARLES RAY in "THE LAW OF THE NORTH." A story of the country where it's five shirts cold. A pipping photoplay for these California June days. Enough excitement to keep you from chilling through. This actor has a role in this play of tremendous strength. Pathe news of latest current events, including "France Honors Yanks," and the "Kentucky Derby."

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY

MITCHELL LEWIS in "CODE OF THE YUKON." A stirring, fascinating and mighty drama of the northwoods. Mitchell Lewis was the star in "The Barrier," "The Bar Sinister" and "The Sign Invisible." These plays placed him in the very front ranks of the silent drama. Pathe review.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

MARGUERITE CLARK supported by THOMAS MEIGHAN in "OUT OF A CLEAR SKY." This is a story of a girl, who in this picture goes through an experience few girls would care to be involved in, who does as no other girl dare do, and the man who came "Out of a Clear Sky." A screaming Harold Lloyd Comedy.

Manager Wright Is Back From Capital

Telling a story of prosperity throughout the middle-west and east, which is to be intensified as soon as peace is signed, Frank H. Wright, manager of the Home Telephone Company of Covina, returned this week from a business trip that carried him to New York, Washington, and other large cities. He had been absent on this trip since May 7.

Mr. Wright went in the interests of his company, which was interested in the United States supreme court decision concerning telephone rates. The Covina man was in the rooms of the supreme court at Washington, where the rate case was argued. Mr. Wright says that it is well worth while for any citizen of this country to witness the proceedings of this august body, where there still remains the dignity and pomp of judicial ermine and the nuée of authority of earlier days.

While in Washington Mr. Wright had business sessions with Senators Johnson and Phelan of California, also with Congressman Randall and other California solons. He had an interesting audience with Postmaster Burleson. In New York he was in conference with the officials of the administration who are handling the telephone and telegraph service of the country. The Covina manager also inspected a number of automatic and semi-automatic telephone exchanges in the east and middle-west.

The account of the rate decision is contained in another article in this issue.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BONDS * FETCH GOOD PREMIUM

Blankenhorn-Hunter Company, a Los Angeles bond house, was the successful bidder for the one hundred and fifty thousand dollars bonds voted by the Covina grammar school district, recently. They paid a premium of $4432. The bonds run for a period of thirty years, $5000 being retired each year.

With the sale of the bonds steps will be at once taken to let the contract for the construction of the building, as it is the desire of the board of trustees to have the building ready for occupancy early in the fall.

VENERABLE CITIZEN DIES AT GLENDORA

Harrison Seimears, the aged father of F. A. Seimears of the Covina Funeral parlors, died at his home in Glendora on Tuesday. He was 93 years and twenty-six days old.

The funeral services, conducted by Rev. Mr. Bashore of the Brethren church, were held from the family residence yesterday morning at 8:30. The remains were laid to rest in Oakdale cemetery.

In addition to his son the deceased leaves an aged widow.

LANDRAM'S ICE CREAM ARRIVES AT RIGHT TIME

It must have been a coincidence, or something like that, which caused the Landrams to put a high-grade quality of ice cream in stock just as the hot wave struck the valley. At their cafeteria on Badillo street they have been doing a big business along about mealtime in ice cream. It is coming to be a habit with business men to drop in and get cream to take home to lunch and dinner.

COVINA MAN COMING FROM OVERSEAS DUTY

Clarence Fabrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fabrick of Badillo street, has telegraphed that he has arrived in New York from overseas, and expects to be home shortly. Fabrick was one of the local men to go out in the summer of last year from Camp Fremont.

W. C. T. U. MEETING TODAY.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held this Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Houser at the corner of Citrus and Second streets. The report of the state convention held last week in Santa Ana will be given.

LYRIC CLUB RAISING MONEY FOR MEMORIAL

Come out and attend the Lyric club concert Saturday evening, June 14th. The ladies have always helped with every patriotic cause and are planning to donate all receipts from this concert, after paying expenses, to the Covina committee for the memorial to our soldiers and sailors.

College Girls Pay Fine For Speeding in Covina

A party of young college girls from Los Angeles, who had been spending the week-end at one of the prominent homes of the valley, ran foul of the Covina city marshal on Saturday evening, when they drove their Stutz car, with the muffler open, through the business portion of the town, which at that hour of the evening was crowded with the customary Saturday evening shoppers, at a rate of speed three times in excess of the limit as provided by the city ordinance.

The young ladies were requested to wend their way to the city hall, where in a naive and pretty manner they tried to convince his honor, Judge Reed, that the income restrictions which surround the motorists in the great city of Los Angeles were not applicable to the delightful freedom of the country.

Shading his eyes with his hand, to hide a merry twinkle, his honor with judicial dignity imposed a fine of ten dollars, and as far as the fair prisoners were concerned, ice cream, sundries and candy were thrown into the discard for at least two weeks.

SALESMEN ADDED TO FORCE OF FURNITURE COMPANY

W. S. Mitchell and Fred Hartman are two salesmen who have joined the staff of the Covina Furniture Company. The young men were secured because of the steadily-growing business of this concern, which necessitates a man in charge of each of the departments. Along with the old reliable Malcolm J. McCarthy ("Mac") the store will be well equipped to wait on custom.

Edward S. Lieburg is an addition to the force of salesmen in Chapp's drug store. He is from Los Angeles, and is taking an extended vacation at Bear valley.

FORMER COVINA MAN DIES IN SERVICE

After an illness in the marine hospital at the Brooklyn navy yard, W. P. Moor, son of W. J. B. Moor, formerly of this valley, died this week, and the body was shipped to Hollywood, where his father now resides.

Owing to some delay in transportation the body did not arrive yesterday according to the announced schedule, and the relatives and friends who gathered for the funeral were notified that the obsequies could not take place. Yet Mr. Moor was well known here. The father owned an orange grove for several years, and the family attended the Baptist church.

NOTICE.

Notice is given to automobile and motorcycle drivers that unless the speed limit is complied with, and mufflers closed in the City of Covina, a motorcycle officer will be employed within two weeks to enforce the regulations.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman, Miss Grace Chapman and a friend, Miss Williams of Los Angeles, Clark Chapman and Irven Reynolds made a party that spent from Thursday night until Sunday at Bear lake. The party made the return trip over the new City creek road which was opened Sunday. They find the trip considerably shorter than the Victorville road, and a splendid road.

Frank Bishop, Paul Talley, Guy Garrison and Frank Olaver made a trip to Bear lake for the week-end.

Miss Margaret Atwater of Los Angeles will be a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Leighton of West Badillo street and attend the high school play Saturday evening.

Mrs. Franklin Fick and her mother, Mrs. Essie Alexander, have taken a cottage at Ocean Park for the summer, where the family will pass their season.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rickards of West Center street will be Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Johnson of Pasadena and Mr. and Mrs. Daupier of Los Angeles. They will attend the performance of "Mary Jane," Pa., the junior actor play at the high school, of which Miss Constance Rickards is a member of the cast.

VETERANS OF PAST AND PRESENT GATHER FOR MEMORIAL EXERCISES

Surrounded by the silent tents of the fallen ones of past wars that have preserved the union of states and upheld the honor of country and flag, the soldiers yet remaining of the great Civil war, together with Spanish war veterans and a liberal sprinkling of the young men of the titanic struggle with Germany, paid a tribute on Memorial day to those who have joined the Last Mobilization on the shores of the Eventful Country.

It was a day of beauty, with the sun's ardent rays shadowed by the grateful mists that overhung the valley, and beneath the arms of oak in Oakdale cemetery, the faithful few "carried on" with the exercises that have been perpetuated down through the more than half century since the boys in blue and the boys in gray laid down the implements of war and returned home.

The exercises were under the supervision of Mr. Harry Morton of Glendora, assisted by William Hoenigsky of Covina. A firing squad of soldiers recently mustered out of the war with Germany, commanded by Sergeant Percy Jackson, gave the salute of musketry over the graves of fallen heroes, and the call of "taps" was sounded by Claude Pollard, representing the Boy Scouts of America. A quartette of ladies from Glendora sang appropriate numbers, and a duet by Veterans J. B. Raymond and his daughter, Mrs. Ada Seeley, was singularly appropriate for the occasion. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was given in spirited and eloquent fashion by Carol Nye. Rev. Frank B. Cowgill of Covina rendered the invocation.

WHITE CROSS OF REMEMBRANCE.

The address of the day was delivered by Frank G. Tyrrell, well-known Los Angeles attorney. The crowd listened with marked attention, as he analyzed the elements of the soldier's heroism, and interpreted the meaning of the day. "This is a day for remembrance," he said, "fond and grateful. Memory, like a pensive Ruth, goes glancing over battlefields, and comes home laden not only with garnered sheaves, but wreaths of flowers." He referred to the fact that he was born in August, '63, the Civil war having closed in the preceding April; "so that the entire span of my life has been spent in an atmosphere of freedom—not a clanking slave-chain anywhere under the flag, thanks to the courage of you veterans of the Wilderness and Gettysburg."

He mentioned the several elements of heroism found in every soldier: first, the surrender of personal ease and comfort, for hardship; second, the sacrifice of gainful activity in profession or business; third, the breaking of tender ties of affection; fourth, the hazarding of life, and fifth, in thousands of cases, the sacrifice of life itself. "Is it any wonder," he added, "that we hail the returning soldier as a hero, and pause reverently on this Memorial day to do him honor?"

"And now think of what the heroism of the soldier purchases: our peace and safety; our freedom and independence; our national unity and autonomy. Never did a barbaric autocracy like that of the millions of the central powers menace in like manner before, since history began, the peace of the world, and threaten to engulf the achievements of the centuries. All that we gained at Banker Hill and Yorktown, at Missionary Ridge and Appomattox, was threatened. Should the unspeakable Hun be permitted to write across the map of the United States, 'New Germania'?"

He reminded his audience that the historic documents treasured by Americans enunciated principles of human freedom: "All men are created equal," not merely "All Americans," and our boys in khaki have lifted and extended that declaration by their prowess in arms, until it embraces every race and nation on earth. It is the fulfillment of the prophecy of Hezekiah Buttermore thirty years ago when he said in his apostrophe to the Stars and Stripes—

"Thou standest for Monmouth's march of fire,

For Trenton's lines of flame,
For rippling Bataw's field of blood,
For Yorktown's endless flame;
For Cape De Gatt and force Algiers,
And Perry's blood-red deck;
For Vera Cruz and Mokotorey,
And white Chapultepec;

Thou standest for Sumpter's broken wall,
As high above Tybee, the shouting forts

Uplift again, the Stars of unity.
Thou standest that all the rights of man

May every people bless, and God's own kingdom
Walk the world, in peace and righteousness."

"The address was closed with an appeal for patriotic devotion in all civil affairs, under the magnificent urge of battles and victories.

RANCHES AND HOMES SOLD DURING WEEK

the walnut district by purchasing this week ten acres in the Baldwin fifth subdivision from Hugh Herring. The property changed hands for $10,500. Mr. Barker had previously purchased 35 acres of bearing walnuts. He will move here within a short time, and will improve his property with a handsome residence and buildings. The property was purchased by him in order to make a permanent home.

Community Service Give Fine Program

One of the most important by-products of the great war has been a new realization of the old truth that no individual, no locality, no nation can live alone; that all are interdependent and that if the best development is secured, the new motto "all for each, and each for all" must be adopted and lived up to as never before in the history of the world. This altruistic principle was remarkably well developed and illustrated at the meeting of the Monday Afternoon club this week, when four of the county officers gave an inspiring thoughtful program upon "community service." Mrs. Jessica C. Hazzard, now a federal employee with the farm advisor's bureau in the city, has arranged and very successfully carried out many of these community programs in various parts of the county, under general direction of the government, which is trying to secure everywhere a fuller community cooperation. The remarkable community spirit developed during the stress and strain of the war resulted in such fine constructive work, that it seems to be wise to conserve, in every possible way, the broader idea of service. To this end public workers are sent out in groups, as specialists, to tell of the need, the methods and the opportunity.

Miss Mary Jones, former librarian of the Los Angeles city library, and sister of W. A. Jones of Covina, was the first speaker and in a most attractive, clear and charming way she outlined the history of the county library work in this county and state. In six years, from a very small beginning, this county now serves three high schools, one hundred and twelve schools, and one hundred and sixty communities. Stations about Covina were noted as at the West Covina school, the Irwindale station of the Southern Pacific, the Charter Oak school and at the home of Mrs. W. A. Jones. Especially interesting was the story of the library branches at the county farm, the hospitals, jail and juvenile hall.

Miss May Chapman, who is in charge of this district under the county charities, spoke with a strong appeal for a better and more general appreciation of community service, in health, education, play and the aesthetic side of life, urging the more frequent putting on of pageants illustrative of the local history of the town or city. Very clearly and plainly did the speaker show the absolute interrelation of people today, when better roads, better mail service, up-to-date schools and church cooperation bring all closer together than ever before, so that all suffer or gain by the luck of advance of some.

Dr. Pomeroy, head of the county health office and indeed the only full-time health officer in the state, told of the laws governing the general public health work, declaring that much of it was misunderstood and urging a closer cooperation between city and county, since all alike must suffer if an epidemic is not cured for. At present, local city laws differ from the county regulations as to quarantine, etc., often creating perplexing situations, difficult to handle happily. The possibilities of the new law, just passed, allowing the formation of health districts, financed by county and localities, was explained and the great advantages shown. The doctor was quite humorous, even though his topic for discussion was serious and he was most earnest, but fortunately he is able to see the ludicrous side of things and his talk was greatly enjoyed and all found it most enlightening and instructive. He declared that very many improvements for any community might be secured, if only there was interest enough shown to ask for them.

Mrs. Hazzard closed the series of talks by telling of the very helpful and interesting work of the federal state and county farm bureau, especially that department which is ready to give expert advice to the women, individually or in groups. The plan of organization of the farm home department, by which twenty-five or more women can meet monthly in any locality, securing the best possible lectures, demonstrations for any of the problems of the feminine side of ranch life, proved interesting. San Dimas and La Verne each has such a club, the members paying a dollar a year, which is used wholly for local publicity, since the lecturers and demonstrators are government agents and they, as well as transportation and literature, are furnished free.

The music for the afternoon was given by Miss Broadwell, who gave several vocal numbers, which showed a steady gain in the development and power of her naturally fine voice. Miss Broadwell's vocal study at Mills college is putting her forward rapidly.

Next Monday afternoon a change has necessarily been made in the program planned, but a unique and fascinating afternoon is promised. Mrs. H. D. Bentley, of the Pasadena Shakespeare club, will give in costume, the story of the historic and wonderful debate between Lincoln and Douglas at Freeport, Ill., August 27, 1858. Mrs. Bentley's parents heard the debate and the excitement and thrill of it is told, as given to her by them. The quaint old gown which Mrs. Bentley will wear is the one worn by her mother at the grand opening of the Brewster house in Freeport, where both Lincoln and Douglas had rooms at the time of the debate. Mrs. Bentley has a most attractive personality and is an entertaining speaker.

The decorations of the club-house were under the supervision of Mrs. Emil Sedlack.

VENERABLE MASON INTERRED IN OAKDALE CEMETERY

The funeral services for Mr. James Royden, whose death occurred Saturday at Stuwelle, were held at the Oakdale cemetery, Monday afternoon, in charge of the officers of Covina lodge F. and A. M. Preceding the masonic ceremony the Episcopal funeral service was read by the local rector, Rev. L. M. Idleman. The masonic service was in charge of Past Master Malcolm McCarthy, who officiated at the grave. The deceased, who was a native of New York, was seventy-seven years of age at the time of his death. He was a life long mason, making Thomas F. Griswold, who is now looked upon as the father of all masons in the San Gabriel valley, a mason in Zerah lodge, No. 159, of Needah, Wisconsin, in the year 1871. The deceased buried his wife in the Oakdale cemetery in 1902. He leaves one son, B. L. Royden, who is connected with the United States department of agriculture, being stationed in Virginia, and who arrived from the east a few days before his father's death.

Clifford Lott Leads Lyric Club Program

Under the leadership of Harry Clifford Lott, well known Los Angeles baritone and vocal instructor, the Lyric club, composed of ladies of the Covina city and valley, has prepared an exceptionally good program, which will be given on Saturday evening, June 14, in the high school auditorium at 8:30. Beginning at this hour the club management believes that it will be much more satisfactory to the people of the community, as this is the cool time of the evening.

Under Mr. Lott's direction the club has prepared a fine repertoire. As in years past the club will continue to give programs for philanthropic or otherwise worthy purposes during the year, but will open with an admission program, the tickets being on sale at Nash's at fifty cents each.

Peat Beds Disgorge Humus for Ranches

W. M. Warren, well-known rancher living on Citrus avenue between Covina and Azusa, said this week that two carloads a day of peat is being shipped from Wintersburg, Orange county, into the citrus districts. Mr. Warren is one of a firm known as Warren, Nickle & Wright, ranchers of this valley, who are engaged in shipping the peat into this locality. It comes from one of the richest and purest peat beds ever uncovered in the state.

"The use of peat," said Mr. Warren this week, "to increase humus content in citrus groves has been increasing rapidly the past two years, and principally because of the superior quality of the Wintersburg deposit. Hundreds of tons of it have been delivered in the Covina, Azusa and Glendora districts. It is the purest form of natural plant food that can be obtained, according to all laboratory tests that have been made."

Mr. Warren says that he is in a position to take orders of ranchers at this time and make quick delivery. This fertilizer is sold under a strict guarantee, either by the ton, unit or cubic foot basis. Every purchaser of two cars or more is furnished an analysis by Prof. Ross, free of cost.

A Summer Journey

We would be glad if we could induce everybody to employ his summer vacation, this year, in a journey of the whole length of El Camino Real, "The King's Highway."

There are many Camino Reals between here and Patagonia, but the King's Highway of California is that glorious road that stretches its golden miles from San Diego's harbor to the Sun of Sonoma in the Valley of the Seven Moons.

It would seem that everybody now owns some kind of a gas wagon, and whoever does not own one can easily rent or borrow one. And El Camino Real is no longer a rut through the chaparral as once it was. It is now a white ribbon of concrete the entire 700 miles of its distance. The rubber tires of any kind of an automobile can cover it in a few days of leisurely travel.

So, when your days of play are at hand this summer, you should set forth upon the white road of glory and fill your soul with its beauty and its exaltation. There is many a road to travel, but in all the world there is no road to compare with this.

Before you start you should go to your public library and secure a copy of the book that Mrs. Forbes has written, or one by other California authors. Take the book with you that you may read as you run. The joy of the trip will be added to beyond measure if you have the book to tell you the story of it.

To begin with, you shall visit every one of the Franciscan missions. You shall sit upon the ruined walls of San Diego de Alcalá where California began. You shall strike into the hills to dream awhile on that sunny slope where exquisite ruins of Fray Junipero's beloved San Antonio de Padua stands, and you shall never forget that hour though you should live a thousand years.

You will have seen the majestic wreck of San Juan Capistrano, and you will have felt the tears of pity in your heart at Soledad and Carmelo—incomparably beautiful Carmelo where Serra sleeps after his stupendous conquest of a heathen land.

It is our wont to boast of California, but the boast is fully justified. There is nowhere on earth to be seen the beauty that meets the eye on the journey from San Diego to Sonoma.

Upon that journey there is everything—mountain and valley, river and lake, hill and dale, field and plain and the white sweep of the sunset ocean.

Rest consists of changes that's why people leave home on their vacations. And it is one thing to select one spot in which to spend one's entire vacation, and it is another thing to spend it on a journey that is not concluded until the vacation is concluded.

So, get into any old kind of an auto, or get a wagon and a horse, or strap a knapsack on your back with a good pair of brogans for your feet, and fare forth on El Camino Real.

You will return with pictures in your mind that time can never fade; you shall have dreams in your heart that the years can never kill; you shall have in your soul an exaltation that will lift you up to far heights never known to you before.

Adios, amigos! Hasta la vista.—John S. McGraw in Los Angeles Times.

Mince Pie That Brought Vision of Home Caused Wounded Soldier to Long for Life.

Pie is not among the articles treated of in works on materia medica, but a recent incident shows that it may have therapeutic value. In a hospital lay an American sailor, for whom everything had been done by surgeons, doctors and nurses, and yet something was lacking. He was homesick; his mind was ever away in a little Atlantic coast town. One day, in the midst of his bodily pain and soul-suffering, there flashed upon him the object of his quest, and he murmured excitedly: "Oh, if I could only have a piece of mince pie." It was not that he wanted to eat a piece of pie, for he was too ill for that. His hunger was for what the pie represented. An American nurse who heard the wish managed, with some difficulty, to find all the ingredients for a real New England pie. When she took it to him she put with it a bit of cheese, also hard to procure in these times, so that nothing would be lacking, and in the cheese she planted a miniature Stars and Stripes. The poor boy could eat neither the pie nor the cheese, but they contributed just the home touch needed to improve his condition. When the wife of the American consul general visited him later she remarked upon the improvement in his condition, and he said: "Two days ago I was in such misery that I could have welcomed death. Now I feel that America is not so far away as I thought and that I have got to hang on."

GENERAL BELIEF IN HONESTY

Something Very Like the Millennium Seems to Be Near in Great British Metropolis.

How is the sudden trust Londoners have come to exhibit for each other to be accounted for? There is an extreme shortage of copper coins for small change in London, and one man says of his experiences: "On several occasions lately news vendors, who have been unable to change silver have said to me, 'Never mind, pay me the next time you are this way.' Only one of them knew me as a regular customer. Even more unexpected credit than this was offered me at a railway booking office where I tendered a shilling for a two-penny fare. 'I'm short of coppers,' said the girl booking clerk, 'pay me tomorrow.' 'But I shall not be here tomorrow,' I replied. 'Then pay me the next time you are here, whenever it is,' she said. 'But supposing I forget,' I expostulated. 'Oh, I know that you will come and pay me some day,' she answered. 'I've never known people fail.' Similar testimony is offered by others, who tell of copper credit thrust upon them by strangers, and often very poor and humble strangers.—London Mail.

Clearing Up After War.

On the banks of the Thames, less than twenty miles from London, there is an American town of the mushroom kind such as you might find in a new California oil field. Its population consists of more than 200 white men and about 150 negroes. It covers twenty-five acres which nine months ago were fallow grass land. The business of the town is to receive, sort and store war material. There is a street of wooden huts, another of corrugated iron huts, huge iron store sheds a quarter of a mile long, office buildings, water supply and electric lights, the whole surrounded by a hedge, a few armed sentries and much mud. All day long the khaki-clad negroes push and haul railway trucks full of war material.

War material coming back from Russia is being stored at this camp, also the fittings of the dismantled hospitals which the American army established in England.

Warmth Increases Oil Flow.

An electrical method of carrying warmth to the bottom of oil wells has been found in many cases greatly to increase the flow of oil. The heating process, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, decreases the viscosity of the oil, usually occasioned by the admission of air to the well and the cooling of the rock bed. Minute crevices and capillary channels which afford easy passage to warm, thin oil become quite impassable if the oil gums. The electric heating method not only thins the oil but often generates gas whose pressure helps the oil to the surface. The system found military use in the abandoned oil fields of Roumania and Galicia.

What's in a Name?

Most readers are familiar with the story of the German bank in a United States city which, finding its name unpopular, changed it to the "Sherman bank." Here is another example on the same lines: A popular New York city German restaurant was called the Kloster Glocke (Cloister Bell), and its front was decorated with a large bell as a sign. The name has been changed to the "Liberty Bell," and the bell of the old monastery now does duty as a replica of the one which rang out independence to the colonies.

Doubts Mechanical Skill.

A "prominent business man" has offered $50,000 for the privilege of being carried as mechanic on the first transatlantic flight made in an airplane. If this offer is accepted, it is to be hoped that his mechanical ability equals his enthusiasm.—Spring Fund Raised for War Work.

The "hoop party" of the war activities committee of the Monday Afternoon club on Saturday realized the necessary funds to complete paying for one-half of an incubator for the re-education of France movement which the club has been endorsing. It was also a delightful social afternoon, with games and contests. A program of musical numbers and fancy dances interspersed the other forms of entertainment. Mrs. George Phillips played several piano solos; Mrs. C. A. Foreman, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Damerel, sang two solos; Miss Ada Ayers, accompanied by Mrs. F. L. Worley, gave a pretty little flower dance, whistling the accompaniment. She also gave a whistling solo. Another interpretive dance was given by Miss Velora Tucker. The closing number was a so-called announcement made by Mrs. Coman. To accompany her she had a flautist, a violinist, a pianist, a vocalist and another lady trying to make a speech. Each performer endeavored to be heard above the other, but the prize fell to Mrs. Coman.

Ten was served and a cooked food and candy sale netted a good sum.

The rooms had been very prettily decorated by groups of young ladies with Mrs. Ed Walters as the chairman. Baskets of trailing ferns hung from the rafters and bowls of white and yellow daisies, sweet peas and corymbia were arranged on the stage and on the tables. One feature was the table containing a yard of baby chicks and another a Rhode Island Red rooster which was auctioned off at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. C. A. Leighton, chairman of the war activities committee, had the affair in charge. Mrs. E. V. Rice presided over the food and candy sale. The members of the committee acted as hostesses.

Covina Girl on the Congo.

The first written word that has been received from Mrs. Ernest B. Pearson since her arrival in Africa came this week, when six letters arrived together. Mrs. Pearson, who will be remembered as Miss Evelyn Utter, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Utter of the Christian church, left Covina last fall for mission work on the Congo in Africa, and was married there on her arrival February 18th to Dr. Ernest Pearson. Dr. and Mrs. Pearson are located at Moniecke, where he has a hospital in which Mrs. Pearson has study rooms for her class of boys. She took with her a small folding organ and a violin and finds them of great help in her work as music has a great attraction to the natives. From her class room windows she looks down over a long stretch of the Congo river. She writes that she is very well and enjoying her work. She is delighted with the native fruit, avocados, the mangoes, bananas, and pineapples.

Mrs. J. C. Walters and Mrs. Jane Walters are leaving on Thursday of next week for Denver, Colorado, where they will make their home with the former's son, Mr. Charles Walters.

Court Affirms Raise in Telephone Rates

The power of Postmaster General Burleson to put into effect increased telephone and telegraph rates was affirmed by the supreme court of the United States, Monday.

The decision was rendered by Chief Justice White, Justice Brandies dissenting, but without rendering a separate opinion. The opinions affect litigation which has been instituted in about forty states and which involved the validity of both rate orders.

As a result of the decision, injunctions restraining the director-general of railroads from enforcing an order increasing freight and passenger rates in North Dakota were dissolved. The court also upheld the dismissal of proceedings brought by Massachusetts authorities to prevent interstate telephone rates in that state being increased, and set aside injunctions preventing advance of telephone rates in South Dakota and telegraph rates in Illinois. In addition, the court dismissed an original suit brought by the state of Kansas against the postmaster-general seeking to have rates prescribed by him in that state declared unreasonable and to prevent them from being made effective.

SWEEPING POWERS.

In deciding the cases the court held the resolutions under which the government took over control of these utilities with the president's proclamations and the railroad control act, gave the United States "complete possession and control" under the war powers and that congress had a right to confer these powers upon the president.

CALIFORNIA AFFECTED.

The railroad commission of California issued a statement commenting on the decision of the United States supreme court upholding telephone rates fixed by the postmaster-general as follows:

"The decision of the United States supreme court, according to press dispatches, places the entire responsibility for telephone rates in the hands of Postmaster-General Burleson. The California railroad commission can do nothing further in the matter of rates until the present status is changed by congress or otherwise."

"This commission has exhausted every effort to maintain its jurisdiction as the rate-fixing power. Today's decision, coming as it does from the high court, is final. It disposes of the two actions brought in this state by the commission in its efforts to prevent the enforcement of the Burleson rate-fixing order."

"The decision will have little effect on the work of this commission."

The court actions referred to in this statement were two suits in the federal courts here contesting the power of the postmaster-general to fix telephone rates in this state on the grounds that the rights of the state railroad commission in this respect were invaded.

AVIATION PATROL TO PREVENT MOUNTAIN FIRES

High in the hazy heavens a United States army airplane dived over March field, bearing down from the lofty, snow-capped peaks of the San Bernardino range. A tiny parachute, just a white speck at a 10,000-foot altitude, fluttered over from the pilot's cockpit of the floating craft and zigzagged to earth almost at the feet of a little group of men gathered on the aviation field.

R. H. Charlton, United States forest supervisor for the Angeles and Cleveland reserves, stooped down and picked up the parachute, to which was attached a slender copper tube. Removing a cap at one end, Charlton extracted a message from the flying pilot above. The message said:

"Two small brush fires detected at points H-21 and E-9."

(Signed) "PILOT, A.F.F.P., Route 1, June 2, 1919, 10:09 a. m."

Thus was inaugurated Monday the first United States forest fire aerial patrol on the western hemisphere and probably in the world—a protection patrol in the sky both by airplanes and army observation balloons that guard not only the Southern California forest reserves but those in the north of the state and others in the United States situated near to aviation fields or balloon schools.

All cities, towns and villages have been notified either by the chamber of commerce or other proper authorities that persons resident there should be on the alert for the falling parachutes, which will only be dropped after smoke bombs have been set off by the pilot in the patrolling plane.

CLEAN YOUR LOTS.

Notice is hereby given to all owners of vacant lots that all weeds must be cleaned from same on or before June 10th. After that date the lots will be cleaned by the city and the costs assessed against the property in accordance with section 11 of ordinance 12 of the city of Covina.

R. M. BOWMAN,

Street Superintendent of the City of Covina.

Covina Boy in Troop Train Wreck in East

The anxiety of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Gail of Navilla Place, as to the safety of their son, Sergeant Sherman Gail, who was aboard the troop train wrecked in Nebraska on Sunday, was relieved on Monday morning upon the receipt of a brief dispatch informing them of his safety.

The following story of the wreck was told in the Associated Press dispatches of Sunday:

One hundred and fifty soldiers from California, members of the Twenty-fifth Regiment of Engineers, plunged into the swollen Platte River, near Ashland, Neb., before daylight this morning, when three sleeping cars of their special train dropped down an embankment and went into the water, which rose from two to six feet in their cars. Almost miraculously, none of the men were killed. Twenty-seven were injured and were brought to the post hospital at Fort Omaha, where they are tonight, resting easy. The remainder of the men were brought to Fort Omaha, and are being fitted out with new clothes and kits.

There were 270 men on the special train, but only 150 went into the river. These 150 lost every stitch of their clothing, and most of them were brought to the fort wrapped in blankets and barefooted.

The wreck was caused by a softened track, made so by a cloudburst. When the heavy troop train of ten cars came by, the side of the track nearest the river gave way, precipitating three sleepers and two baggage cars into the water. The regiment had been in France and was returning to San Francisco to be mustered out.

The injured will all recover, and unless pneumonia sets in as a result of the exposure, there will be no deaths from the wreck.

Seven of the injured are from San Francisco, six from Oakland, four from Los Angeles, and Exeter, Bakersfield, Spring Valley, Dinuba, Alameda, and Berkeley are included in the home towns of the injured.

When the clothing of the men went out of the broken windows, practically everything of value possessed by them was lost.

SCHOOL CHILDREN IN DRIVE FOR 'CHILDRENS' HOME'

The annual "heart" sale is being conducted this week by pupils of Covina schools to aid the Children's Home Society of California, in their work of caring for homeless and destitute children. This work is non-sectarian and state wide, any homeless child being cared for by this society, and their placement secured in approved family homes. 601 children were cared for and placed last year, at a cost of almost $5 per month for each child. Over $15,000 was raised toward this work by the school children of California, assisted by their teachers, parents and friends, a splendid record. Many of these pupils learned for the first time of other little children not so fortunate as themselves, and entered with enthusiasm into selling the little hearts to help them. Covina school children raised over $86 last year, and Mrs. Hull, field representative, presented the work to the pupils again last Monday, nearly every pupil in the different classes volunteered again for work. It is doubtful if Covina has any "heartless" people on her streets or in the homes this week.

There is a contest in the grammar schools to see which class can make the best record. A California banner to be awarded the lucky class. There will also be silk American flag prizes for individual workers collecting $1 or more, and for room prizes. As over 1400 children have been placed in Los Angeles county alone, this work is well known. The office and general headquarters are at 2414 Griffith avenue, Los Angeles, and Mrs. C. E. Crawford is the Covina representative. The work has the endorsement of state board of charities and corrections; county superintendent of schools, and many prominent men and women everywhere.

BEREAN NEEDLE CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The ladies of the Berean Needle club of the Covina Methodist church were entertained on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pitzer on Lark Ellen boulevard. The hostess was assisted on this occasion by Mrs. E. F. Gloege and Mrs. E. M. Chosson. The ladies devoted the greater portion of the afternoon to sewing garments for the children of the David and Margaret Home at LeVerne. Ice cream and cake were served by the hostess.

At the close of the business session the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year: Mrs. J. M. Whitser, president; Mrs. E. F. Gloege, vice president; Mrs. C. E. Fingerle, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Andrew McAllen and Mrs. H. A. Miller, press committee.

The next meeting of the club will be held on the last Tuesday of the month in the Methodist church parlor.

ELSIE FERGUSON IN PERILOUS RIDING FEATURE OF "HEART OF THE WILD"

ELSIE FERGUSON in "Heart of the Wilds"
An AUSTIN POWER

Foats of horsemanship unequalled in daring, are conspicuously shown in "Heart of the Wilds," the new Art-craft photoplay starring Elsie Ferguson which is to be presented at the Star theater, today and tomorrow. Miss Ferguson shares dare-devil riding honors with Matt Moore, who plays the role of her brother in the photoplay and who seeks to escape the mounted police after slaying an Indian for making an insulting remark about his sister.

Mr. Moore risked life and limb in riding down a shale cliff, the side of which was almost perpendicular. Usually a dummy is employed for such perilous foats, but Mr. Moore disdained to employ a papier mache substitute, so he made the attempt. Fortunately, he met with no mishap, but during the ordeal Director Neilan and the spectators were on tenterhooks. Miss Ferguson also rode down a steep grade without being unseated, a feat that many a practiced horsewoman might well have been excused from performing.

The story of "Heart of the Wilds" is intensely dramatic and the situations are filled with thrills and effective heart appeal. Thomas Meighan appears as leading man in Miss Ferguson's support, the cast throughout being of the best.

High School Items

Tonight and tomorrow night the great feat of the year is scheduled to happen. The junior-senior play, "Mary Jane's Pa," at last is ready to be presented to the public. The play is a rather difficult one for high school students, but by putting hours and hours of work on it under the direction of Miss Patterson, Miss McKay, Miss Gates, and Miss Gee of Long Beach, it has been worked up into a first class play that will delight the audience and will be a "howling" success in every way.

The caste of the junior-senior play and the directors were entertained at lunch on Saturday, May 31, at the home of Mrs. Leonhardt.

On the afternoon and evening of the same day, the seniors and the caste of the junior-senior play had a most enjoyable time at a picnic at Ganesha Park, given by Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts of West Center street. After indulging in a swim in the Ganesha park plunge, the party ate a picnic lunch under the large shade trees of the park.

The sophomore-freshman reception picnic was rather late this year, coming on last Monday afternoon and evening. The picnic was held in Ganesha park, three of the trucks being used to carry the classes over. The day was one of the first real hot days of the year and nearly everyone enjoyed a cool, refreshing swim, after which the two classes ate the picnic lunch which the sophomores prepared.

Tuesday afternoon the famous bird whistler, Mr. Hutchins, gave a wonderfully interesting and unique program, imitating the songs and calls of many birds, and at the same time drawing beautifully colored sketches of the birds he was imitating. His program was extraordinary and everyone was intensely interested throughout.

NINE COVINA GIRLS IN COLLEGE PROGRAM

Do you like weddings? Do you remember the days when you used to wonder whether Old King Cole was a bachelor and whether Mother Goose had a husband?

If so the mystery will be revealed tomorrow, Saturday evening, June 7th, in the Greek theater at Claremont, when the department of physical education of Pomona college will stage the fantastic "When a King Marries" under the auspices of the college women's organization.

The charming little story which underlies the masque carries us back to a lonely little girl in a quaint old garden many years ago. Threatened by her staid maiden aunts with "something" which will happen if she eats some berries in the garden, the little girl succumbs to the age old lure of curiosity, half fearing, half desiring the "something" which is to happen.

The something—but that would be telling. Suffice it to say that before we are done we are introduced to Old King Cole, Mother Goose, and a whole coterie of other merry folk of the land of make believe.

Little Miss Muffet is there, porridge and all, and the spider still pursues her. Bo Peep and Boy Blue appear in a new role. Our old friends Peirrot and Peirrette are there in the quaintest of dances. Most terrifying, too, are the forty thieves of Ala Baba in their great grim jars.

Beautiful costuming and spectacular lighting effects are to be employed to enhance the beauty of the masque. The costumes are being done by Mrs. Eurt Johnson, formerly a professional costume designer of New York, and Mr. Fred Miller of Los Angeles is superintending the lights. Mr. Miller had the lights of the Redlands pageant in charge and all who witnessed the results of his careful work there will realize what is in store for them at the June fantasia.

The masque is an annual affair at the college and as in years past it will be an event of unusual beauty and charm, and one in which the Pomona women lavish the greatest care and energy. This year it is to be the best ever according to the management. King Cole will be glad to welcome all his friends June 7th at 8:30 p. m.

The following Covina girls will participate in the evening's program: Eda Beatty, Old King Cole; Lucile Matthews, Boy Blue; Hazel Potter, Doris Snodgrass and Evelyn Brown featured with the Forty Thieves of Ala Baba; Florence Taylor and Maude Beatty attendants to Mother Goose; Mildred Berry, one of the seven thieves with Snow White; Mary Temple in the orchestra.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL FAIR AND EXHIBIT, JUNE THIRTEEN

In recognition of the work of the United States school garden army of one hundred and forty-four members, the schools of the Covina city district, will hold a fair and exhibit, on the Reed school grounds, Friday afternoon, June 13.

A flag day program will be given at two o'clock in the Reed school auditorium, consisting of songs and recitations appropriate to the occasion, and two solo dances by members of the sixth grade.

At the conclusion of this program there will be an exhibit of live stock and garden produce, a special feature of which will be a market where poultry, rabbits and garden stuff may be purchased. All the exhibits and market produce will represent the results of the work of the children themselves.

During the afternoon a series of games, drills, stunts and an aeroplane flight contest will be given for the entertainment of the guests.

Ribbons as prizes for various classes of both entertainment and exhibits will be awarded.

Admission will be free, but don't neglect to come well heeled for there will be ice cream, sun-kissed orange and lemonade, candy and cakes on sale at the class booths.

The following committee of arrangements invites your presence: Robert Ashton, Thelma Burk, Olive Colm, Rowland Phillee, Francis Pollard, Gertrude Tompkins, Crystal Levine, Shirley Werden, Quister Pittilla, Mary Talley, Margaret Gordon, Delbert Smith.

EDISON'S VOICE IN RECORDS

Inventor of Phonograph, for the First Time, Makes Short Speech Which Will Be Preserved.

Thomas A. Edison, who invented the phonograph 42 years ago, has for the first time consented to have his own voice recorded on a phonograph record. The reproduction, which is on the back of a record containing the national anthems of our allies, was heard recently for the first time in the Edison laboratory at Orange, N. J.

Mr. Edison celebrated his 72nd birthday on February 11. The talk, which is Mr. Edison's first comment about the war since America entered the fight, follows:

"Our boys made good in France. The word 'American' has a new meaning in Europe. Our soldiers have made it mean courage, generosity, self-restraint and modesty. We are proud of the North Americans who risked their lives for the liberty of the world, but we must not forget, and we must not permit demagogues to belittle the part played by our gallant allies. Their casualty lists tell the story.

"However proud we may be of our own achievements, let us remember always that the war could not have been won if the Belgians, British, French and Italians had not fought like bulldogs in the face of overwhelming odds. The great war will live vividly in the minds of Americans for the next 100 years. I hope that when we do reverence to the memory of our brave boys who fell in France we shall not forget their brothers in arms who wore the uniforms of our allies.

"I believe that the national airs of France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium should for all time to come be as familiar to us as our own 'Star-Spangled Banner.'"

Tools For the Farm.
In France and Flanders are given the following list of the tools every farmer must own:

"Under the title of 'Repair Shop,' C. I. Guinness, a Massachusetts machinery expert, lists the following tools as invaluable on every farm. The chest includes rip saw, crosscut saw, claw hammer, steel square, jack plane, block plane, spirit level, brace and set of auger bits. Many other tools might be mentioned, but with those listed practically all of the necessary farm carpenter work can be done."
